How does PLC differ from other courses?

PLC covers a wide spectrum of issues other than standard project management areas that must be addressed in order to obtain the desired business outcome.

Experienced Professionals of International repute will be speaking at this event. They will give meaningful insights on key areas of project management.

Tool showcase: This unique professional development opportunity offers a platform to meet and interact with experienced Project Managers, colleagues and peers to share ideas and discuss various opportunities. Participants will also be given hands-on exposure to a real-life PMO tool, in order to broaden their horizons on the alternatives available in this ever-changing world of AI-infused Project Management.

Leadership 6.0

Fast process of technology and digital world are taking place in all organizational authoritative in all area and in all kind of sectors because the business world is transformed by the postmodern revolution-Fifth Industrial Revolution. In this dynamic environment, leaders should learn new management behaviors, with which they can communicate both internal and external environment of their enterprises by the strategies of being agile and innovative organizations. Leaders and managers have sought new solutions in order to manage and to survive their enterprises in dynamic and changeable business environment. For that, they firstly focused on adaptation, then on flexibility and finally they focused on agility, especially in production in order to adapt to change.

Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG)

ESG is the acronym for Environmental, Social, and (Corporate) Governance, the three broad categories, or areas, of interest for what is termed “socially responsible projects.” They are companies who consider it important to incorporate their values and concerns (such as environmental concerns) into their selection of projects instead of simply considering the potential profitability and/or risk presented by an investment opportunity.

Green Demand & Green Delivery

Green project management is a model where we think green throughout our project and make decisions that take into account the impact on the environment – if any. It is a way to ingrain “greenthink” into every project management process.

The PLC has been designed to provide as close a simulation of real life project situations/environments as possible:
 1. Training hours are planned to be intense in order to simulate a real-life project environments. Such training hours can be from 8:30am daily until into the late evening (depending on the work outstanding)
 2. Certification assignments, such as eLearning revisions and Case Studies, designed for greater self-understanding, are required to be completed outside of the normal training hours
 3. Day 4 Groupwork sessions may require overnight effort as participants may have to deliberate and work with other team members to complete the challenging assignments and next-morning presentation
 4. PLC is a practise-practise-practise Bootcamp with unique application of softskills (leadership, strategic thinking) and hard/technical skills (knowledge areas, PMIS tools, project processes) to give a complete week-long experiential learning supported by CBT-Portal-eLearning-Profiling-IDP-360degree-PMIS6.0 Cloud with Mobility.
